

LiveCycle ES2 Service Sample - Reader Extensions - Dynamically Apply Policy

Overview of the sample

The sample demonstrates how to dynamically apply reader extensions to a PDF document. The process is initiated with a PDF document and an XML file containing the reader extensions required to be applied being placed in a watched folder. The process applies the required reader extensions and places the reader extended file back into the watched folder.